WHOSE FIRST PICTURE "THE PRICE OF HAPPINESS" WILL SOON
BE RELEASED BY METRO

Mabel Taliaferro, the beautiful and fascinating stage star, who recently gave up a successful road tour in "The New Henrietta" to begin work in Metro feature pictures, was not the least bit unhappy when told that her first Metro production would be made in the dreamy climate of Palm Beach, Florida. Miss Taliaferro, at the head of a strong company, and working under the direction of Edwin Carewe, is now basking in the warm sunshine of the southern winter resort, making the first scenes in "The Price of Happiness." This gripping photoplay was written especially for Miss Taliaferro, and is particularly suited to the distinctive gifts she displayed in the stellar roles of "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," "Bully of the Circus," and other successful stage productions. Before returning North Miss Taliaferro will make the exterior scenes for a second production and finish the feature in a Metro studio in New York. Rolfe Photoplays, Inc., is producing the picture.

Features for Today.

CRANDALL'S—Alice Brady in "The Woman in 47."

"A Recoiling Vengeance."
The Universal stands pre-eminent as a producer of vivid and thrilling pictures. In "A Recoiling Vengeance," this is said to be exemplified in a convincing manner. A woman spy and adventurer, planning the death of a young couple, meets her own nemesis and is pushed to death by a slave whom she has punished. Just as the tigers are about to spring upon the young couple whose peril she has skillfully contrived, her mangled body falls among them and the tigers complete the grim work of destruction. "A Recoiling Vengeance" will be shown at the Hippodrome tomorrow.

"Souls in Bondage."
Nance O'Neill will shortly be seen in the multiple reel feature, "Souls in Bondage," an original story written for the screen by Daniel Carson Goodman, author of "The Gods of Fate" and "Revenge." This gripping feature is being produced by Edgar Lewis, whose work on "The Great Divide," stamps him as one of the foremost directors in the country. "Souls in Bondage" was chosen by Nance O'Neill as the subject best suited to exploit the talents for which she is known the world over. It is a sea drama in five acts, and deals with incidents in the life of two sisters, and the tremendous sacrifice made by one for the other.

"The Gods of Fate."
Never in the history of motion pictures, has the struggle between a man and his conscience been more vividly portrayed than in "The Gods of Fate," Daniel Carson Goodman's epic of labor. "The Gods of Fate" hits straight from the shoulder at the great labor wrongs of the present time. Richard Eubler, who plays the leading part in this powerful drama, has never appeared to better advantage, and Rosetta Brice has a sympathetic part for her liking. Francis Joy-

NEW NATIONAL — Next Week—SEATS SELLING.

Klaw & Erlanger & George C. Tyler Present

DO YOU remember yesterday for the approaching engagement of George Arliss in "The Price of Happiness"? If not, be sure to do so today. Here was one of the world's great geniuses. The art of the whole world. Yet love in the guise of a beautiful woman brought his divine art to her feet. The telling of the remarkable story in the splendidly written, splendidly acted play carries with it all the lights, shades and dramatic episodes of a fascinating love-romance of a real life as has ever been happily transferred to the stage. It will hold you spellbound with delight. Watch the Above Space for other items of interest.

WITH A COMPANY OF GREAT DISTINCTION

The Sale of Seats Continues And the Interest Is Extraordinary

Metro wonder play, in which Hamilton Revelle, the noted dramatic star, appears in the stellar role, will be seen here shortly.

Mr. Revelle is surrounded by an exceptionally strong cast, including Barbara Tennant, who is featured with him; William Davidson, Helen Dunbar, Frank Glendon, Hugh Jeffrey, William Calhoun, William Heck and other prominent players. The story of "The Price of Malice" was written and produced by O. A. C. Lund. There are scores of big scenes in this production, including the destruction of a large yacht in the ice floes off Labrador.

SNAPSHOTS.

The motion picture industry has pledged itself to a plan to raise $200,000 in fifteen weeks toward the million dollar endowment for the Actors' Fund of America. The project will embrace a national appeal to the public through the 20,000 motion picture theaters of the United States.

Thamhouse has produced "Silas Marner," featuring Fredrick Warde, the Brooklyn actor and lecturer, supported by Volkyrein. The subject was released on the Mutual program yesterday.

Tefft Johnson, after a successful seven years with the Vitaphone Company as player and director, has resigned. "The Writing on the Wall," a strong subject produced by Mr. Johnson, was released last week.

Tyrone Power's latest appearance on the screen is in "Thou Shalt Not Covet." Mr. Powers is supported in the Miss Williams has been a favorite with picture followers for half a dozen years. Her first screen work was in Los Angeles with the Biograph. When it came time for the company to return to New York it divided the year between the two cities—Miss Williams was informed that the management regarded it had no place for her on the permanent roster. When, shortly afterward, Miss Williams made so pronounced a hit in Sell pictures—and she has been with the Diamond 8 ever since—the officials of the Biograph regret
